

#452: Eyewash Multi-Mess

Most emergency eyewash stations offer just one way of cleaning hazmat out of your eyes. This one offers no less than three.

First, the traditional dual-fountain approach. For larger problems, the victim can choose the watering can. And for the biggest problems of all, a handy swab is available, with which you could mop out your eyes and wash your hair, all at the same time.